

Research project: MIGRATION AND OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH. UNDERSTANDING THE RISKS FOR EASTERN EUROPEAN MIGRANT WOMEN

“WORK, MIGRATIONS AND HEALTH”

SEPTEMBER 2, 2019

UNIVERSITY OF PADUA

SALA SPECCHI, VIA CESAROTTI 10/12

9.30 Welcoming

9.45-10.25 Francesca Alice Vianello (University of Padua), Migrant women and work-related health: theoretical and methodological approach

Discussant: Emily Ahonen (Indiana University)

10.25-11.05 Federica Zaccagnini (University of Padua), Multidimensional determinants of female migrant workers health. A case study on Moldovans in Padua

Discussant: Daniele Berto (Spisal of Padua)

11.05-11.20 – Coffee break

11.20-12.00 Veronica Redini (University of Padua), Affective labour and illness among the Moldovan female workers. Some preliminary results on elderly care regime in Padua

Discussant: Carol Wolkowitz (University of Warwick)

12.00-12.40 Donatella Cozzi (University of Udine), An old paradigm revisited: Syndrome Italia and the link between migration and mental health

Discussant: Sabrina Marchetti (Ca' Foscari University of Venice)

12.40-13.20 Venera Protopapa (University of Verona), Developing an interdisciplinary approach to health and safety for migrant workers

Discussant: Devi Sacchetto (University of Padua)

13.30 Buffet lunch offered by the Research Project